

Year 11 Society and Culture

You are to present a Research Proposal Report.

The report is to be used to show the reader a well organised, well structured and effective plan of approach to building a piece of research you have identified as being worthy of undertaking in the area of Intercultural Communication.

The report needs to:

- isolate and clearly indentify the piece of research you wish to complete
- indentify the rationale for the research
- specify the precise method(s) you would take to obtain the information you require to complete your research
- include the sources, primary and secondary, that you would seek to utilise and indentify the reason for these approaches

The report is meant to be presented to a manger position who needs to approve the research going ahead.

The Research Proposal Report will be laid out on the answer sheet. Length of the report will depend on the information you are willing to obtain and provide, but spaces provided in the answer sheet will act as a guide.
